(d) Domiciliation of the Programme

All Masters Programmes are domiciled in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Nigeria, Nsukka.

- Student Enrolment

Student enrolment into the M.Sc. programme of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Nigeria, Nsukka, are subject to the carrying capacity of the Department.

2.2 Academic Standards

2.2.1 Academic Regulations

i. Modular System

All Masters Programmes in the Department are run on a modularized system, commonly referred to as Course Unit System. All courses are therefore sub-divided into self-sufficient and logically consistent packages that are taught within a semester and examined at the end of each semester. Credit units are attached to each course.

ii. Definition of Credit Unit

Credit units are weight attached to a course. One credit unit is equivalent to one hour per week per semester of 15 weeks of lectures or tutorials.

Programme Requirements

(I) Registration Procedure

Students shall normally complete registration for courses for the semester not later than two weeks after the start of the semester. A student cannot withdraw from the course after five weeks of lectures in a given semester without permission from the Dean of School of Postgraduate Studies.

A student who withdraws after this time and fails to seek permission from the Dean of School of Postgraduate Studies is deemed to have failed the course.

A student who fails to sit for more than two courses at the end of a given semester is deemed to have withdrawn voluntarily from the programme.

- Good Standing

To be in good standing, a student must, in each semester, have a Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of not less than 3.00

- Withdrawal

A student with less than 3.00 CGPA shall remain in the programme for the 1st semester but shall be withdrawn if he/she fails to attain 3.00 CGPA at the end of second semester.

- Attendance

In order to be eligible for examination in a particular course, a student shall have attended a minimum of 75% of the total period of formal instructions delivered for the course.

- Course Evaluation

In the Department's Master of Science Programme, assessments of students' performance are based on: (i.) Course Examination;(ii) Term Papers/Seminars; and,(iii) Other Assignments, which may be through essays, tests, tutorial exercises, quizzes, homework, attendance at seminars, etc.

(II) Examination, Grading Procedure and Results

(a) Examinations

- In addition to continuous assessment, final examination is given for every course at the end of every semester.

The total scores obtained in continuous assessment and final examination in every course is 100%. The breakdown is as follows:

Continuous Assessment	30%
Final Examination	70%
Total	100%

- Each course is normally completed and examined at the end of the semester in which it is offered.
- Pass mark
The minimum pass mark in any course is 50%.

(b) Grading System

Grading of courses are done by a combination of percentage marks and letter grades translated into a graduated system of Grade Point Equivalents (GPE), used for the purpose of determining a student's standing at the end of every semester. Grade Point Average (GPA) system is used to compute the student's overall grade at the end of every semester. The GPA is computed by dividing the total number of credit points (TCP) by the total number of units (TNU) for all the courses taken in the semester. The credit point for a course is computed by multiplying the number of units for the course by the Grade Point Equivalent of the marks scored in the course. Each course is graded out of a maximum of 100 marks and assigned appropriate Grade Point Equivalent as in the table below:

Credit Units	% Scores	Letter Grades	Grade Points	Average (GPA)
This varies according to contact hours assigned to each course per week per semester, and according to load carried by students.	70 - 100	A	5	This is derived by multiplying Credit Units and Grade Points and dividing by Total Credit Units
	60 – 69	B	4
	50 – 59	C	3
	45 – 49	D	2
	40 – 44	F	1

(c) External-Examiner System

An External Examiner is invited at the end of the MSc programme to assess the courses and Project Reports. The external examiner is an academic in the relevant discipline that is not less than senior lecturer's rank and who holds a PhD in the discipline. The Project Reports are defended orally before a panel of internal and external examiners and scores are awarded. The student is required to show evidence that he/she carried out the work and had pertinent knowledge of the subject matter.

- Urban Sociology

3. 2 Admission

(a) Admission Requirements

The criteria for admission into the PhD programme are as follows.

- Candidate must satisfy the matriculation requirements of the University, including English Language and Mathematics.
- Candidate must have a minimum of Master's degree in sociology and/or anthropology, depending of the specialization the candidate aspires to, from an approved university, with a CGPA of not lower than 3.5 on a 5-point scale, or equivalent, from an accredited university.
- Candidate must demonstrate adequate intellectual capacity, maturity and effective decision making and problem-solving potentials.
- Candidate must have scored a minimum of B or 60% or its equivalent (depending on the grading system in the institution that awarded the degree) in his/her Master's Project Report.
- Candidate must write a concept proposal of not less than five A-4 pages in his/her area of specialization.

(b) Duration of Programme

A full-time PhD programme of the Department runs for a minimum of six semesters and a maximum of ten semesters.

A part-time PhD programme of the Department runs for a minimum of eight semesters and a maximum of twelve semesters.

For extension beyond the specified maximum period, a special permission of the Board of Postgraduate Studies is required.

(c) Requirements for Graduation

For a candidate to graduate, he/she must pass a minimum of thirty credit units made of the following:

- 21 units of course work
- At least 12 units from course work including a 3 unit Faculty course on Research Grant Writing and Synopsis Writing and 6 units from two seminars, one presented as Research Proposal at the beginning of the student's research programme and the other at the end of the research work before the final defence. All doctoral course work should include book and/or journal article reviews. Twelve (12) out of the 30 units must be earned from thesis, which must be defended before an External Examiner.
- A candidate must attend a national or international conference, where he or she will present his/her work; and the candidate must publish his/her work in an Impact Factor (recognized by the University) journal to be eligible for graduation.
- A candidate must as part of the minimum credit units take the course PGC. 701 – Synopsis and Grant Writing, and attend a solution-based interactive workshop to be organized by the School of Postgraduate Studies for a practical demonstration and application of the knowledge acquired (from the course, PGC. 701).

(d) Domiciliation of the Programme

All Doctoral Programmes are domiciled in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Nigeria, Nsukka.

(e) Student Enrolment

Student enrolment into the Ph.D. programme of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Nigeria, Nsukka are subject to the carrying capacity of the Department.

3.2.1 Academic Standards3.2.1.1 Academic Regulations

- i An academic session consists of two semesters. Each semester normally comprises 15 weeks of teaching and two weeks of examinations.
- ii All Doctoral Programmes in the Department are run on a modularized system, commonly referred to as Course Unit System. All courses are therefore sub-divided into self-sufficient and logically consistent packages that are taught within a semester and examined at the end of each semester. Credit units are attached to each course.

- i Credit units are weight attached to a course. One credit unit is equivalent to one hour per week per semester of 15 weeks of lectures or tutorials.

3.3 Programme Requirements

Registration Procedure

Students shall normally complete registration for courses for the semester not later than two weeks after the start of the semester. A student cannot withdraw from the course after five weeks of lectures in a given semester without permission from the Dean of School of Postgraduate Studies.

A student who withdraws after five weeks or who fails to seek permission from the Dean of School of Postgraduate Studies is deemed to have failed the course.

A student who fails to sit for more than two courses at the end of a given semester is deemed to have withdrawn voluntarily from the programme.

- Good Standing

To be in good standing, a student must, in each semester, have a Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of not less than 4.00

- Credit Transfer

A Ph.D. student in good standing can transfer to any university

- Withdrawal

A student with less than 4.00 CGPA shall be withdrawn if he/she fails to attain 4.00 CGPA at the end of the consecutive semesters.

- Attendance

In order to be eligible for examination in a particular course, a student shall have attended a minimum of 75% of the total period of formal instructions delivered for the course.

- Course Evaluation

In the Department's Ph.D. Programme, assessments of students' performance are based on: (i.) Course Examination; (ii) Term Papers/Seminars; and, (iii) Other Assignments, which may be through essays, tests, tutorial exercises, quizzes, homework, attendance at seminars, etc.

3.3.1 Examination, Grading Procedure and Results

(a)Examinations

- In addition to continuous assessment, final examination is given for every course at the end of every semester.

The total scores obtained in continuous assessment and final examination in every course is 100%. The breakdown is as follows:

Continuous Assessment	30%
Final Examination	70%
Total	100%

- Each course is normally completed and examined at the end of the semester in which it is offered.
- Pass mark
The minimum pass mark in any course and thesis is 50%

(b) Grading System

Grading of courses are done by a combination of percentage marks and letter grades translated into a graduated system of Grade Point Equivalents (GPE), used for the purpose of determining a student's standing at the end of every semester. Grade Point Average (GPA) system is used to compute the student's overall grade at the end of every semester. The GPA is computed by dividing the total number of credit points (TCP) by the total number of units (TNU) for all the courses taken in the semester. The credit point for a course is computed by multiplying the number of units for the course by the Grade Point Equivalent of the marks scored in the course. Each course is graded out of a maximum of 100 marks and assigned appropriate Grade Point Equivalent as in the table below:

Credit Units	% Scores	Letter Grades	Grade Points	Average (GPA)
This varies according to contact hours assigned to each course per week per semester, and according to load carried by students.	70 – 100	A	5	This is derived by multiplying Credit Units and Grade Points and dividing by Total Credit Units
	60 – 69	B	4
	50 – 59	C	3
	45 – 49	D	2
	40 – 44	F	1

(c) External-Examiner System

An external examiner is invited at the end of the PhD programme to assess the courses and theses. The external examiner is an academic in the relevant discipline that is not less than Reader's (Associate Professor) rank.

The theses shall be subject to oral examination where the student is required to show evidence that he/she carried out the work and had pertinent knowledge of the subject matter. A score is awarded at the end of the examination. Only holders of Ph.D. degree of rank not lower than Senior Lecturer shall be members of the Examination Panel.
